Structure of a Teaching Case

- Abstract (100-150 words). Bring out focus, aim of the case, and the conclusions
- Keywords (5-7 words)
- Opening paragraph : Bring out main issues, context within which the case occurs. Introduce protagonists
- Body: Build up the case in chronological order, provide back ground, quote views, conflicts, alternatives in decision making.
- Concluding paragraph: Short synthesis of the case, questions, issues for readers
- References
- Acknowledgments: For permissions received
- Teaching notes: Should be sent in a separate file, separated from the paper to provide author's understanding of the issues. The teaching notes are not published.

Selection process of Case Submitted

- Case Leads are first scrutinized to ascertain compatibility with the conference themes. The authors are advised to develop the case only after the Lead has been accepted.
- Full text papers received will first undergo editorial scrutiny to judge suitability. The conference uses TURNITIN software to check the originality of the submissions with aims of zero tolerance to plagiarism.
- The shortlisted papers will then go through double blind peer review process. Third referee is used when the first two referees differ. Majority review is the basis of acceptance.

- The papers can be referred to authors for a revision only when there is a need for a minor revision. Papers recommended for major revision/outright rejection will not be referred to authors for rework because of constraints of time to meet the schedules of publication.

Selection for Award

- Selection of awardees for BIMTECH - Dr. G D Sardana Memorial Young Scholar Award will be carried out by duly constituted committee of experts. In all the cases the decisions of the ICMC 2018 organizers will be final and binding.
- Awardees for the Case Centre Best Cases Award & SAGE Best Case Award will be carried out by the donors.

Presentation Schedule

Each case presentation : 15-20 minutes
Discussion, response from authors : 10-15 minutes
BIMTECH will provide all facilities of OHP/Power point presentation.

FORUM for Collective Wisdom

ICMC 2018 will witness a new format of case presentation and interaction among participants for advancing a few cases that are judged by our reviewers to have been well constructed. In the spirit of discussion and development, the "Forum for collective wisdom" session will provide an opportunity to engage in supportive dialogue on thirteen papers grouped in the themes of Sustainability, Innovation, and Descriptive Case Studies. Each group will have two facilitators, presenters of cases and audience. All the participants of each group are expected to read each other's cases of their respective group and provide their comments in advance through a google form that will be shared with the participants. This will help in extensive and fruitful discussion (The cases will be shared in advance). Each presenter will give 3-4 minute summary of their study to state the purpose of the study, the process, and the key findings.

Participants are required to bring hand-outs (e.g., executive summary, figures, tables, etc.) of their cases that shall be distributed to others in the group. The hand-outs should not be of more than 800 words. Minimum of 10 hand-outs should be carried. Strictly no powerpoint presentations are allowed. The idea is to have a highly interactive conversation rather than long monologues.

How to reach BIMTECH

Situated in the National Capital Region, BIMTECH is located strategically on Expressway at Greater Noida. BIMTECH is about 45 Kms from New Delhi railway station and 50 Kms from Indira Gandhi International Airport. Taxis are available from railway stations and airport.

Selection process of Case Submitted

- Case Leads are first scrutinized to ascertain compatibility with the conference themes. The authors are advised to develop the case only after the Lead has been accepted.
- Full text papers received will first undergo editorial scrutiny to judge suitability. The conference uses TURNITIN software to check the originality of the submissions with aims of zero tolerance to plagiarism.
- The shortlisted papers will then go through double blind peer review process. Third referee is used when the first two referees differ. Majority review is the basis of acceptance.
- The papers can be referred to authors for a revision only when there is a need for a minor revision. Papers recommended for major revision/outright rejection will not be referred to authors for rework because of constraints of time to meet the schedules of publication.

Selection for Award

- Selection of awardees for BIMTECH - Dr. G D Sardana Memorial Young Scholar Award will be carried out by duly constituted committee of experts. In all the cases the decisions of the ICMC 2018 organizers will be final and binding.
- Awardees for the Case Centre Best Cases Award & SAGE Best Case Award will be carried out by the donors.
