Azola Project

Date: 26th December 2019

Globally, the human population is growing at an alarming rate, reducing land coverage over time. In the modern world, lifestyle changes, the nature of work, and food habits increase the incidence of serious diseases in animals, and human activity influences the environment, such as the use of chemical fertilizers for agriculture, large terrestrial ecosystems all over the biosphere, such as deforestation of plants, which could not sink from atmospheric CO₂, and the production of fuels for energy, which would increase the need for fossil fuels but would also deliver low energy fuels at a high energy cost. To overcome the above problems, Azolla plants perform well since they can be grown at low labour costs, on small plots of land, and for a variety of purposes including animal feed/livestock, poultry and fish production, environmental remediation, biofertilizer and biocontrol for mosquito repellents, carbon sequestration of CO₂, and bioenergy effectiveness all year. As a result of their low impact on the environment and human health, Azolla plants are becoming increasingly important. The purpose of this review is to provide evidence of Azolla plant production and its potential role in various applications for a greener, more sustainable approach.

Total 57 NSS Volunteers participated in plantation of Azola which ultimately helps in social welfare of villagers.

Azola Project Date: 26th December 2019

Zero Waste Management

Date: 26th December 2019

NSS Volunteers along with faculty members participated in zero waste management event where they collected litters and waste from nearby areas and segregated it in dry and wet waste for effective dumping in the zone. Environmental protection: Zero waste practices can help reduce greenhouse gas emissions and improve air and water quality. Landfills are a significant source of methane, a potent greenhouse gas, while incineration can release harmful pollutants into the air.

Zero Waste Management Date: 26th December 2019

REPORT OF CELEBRATION OF INTERNATIONAL YOGA DAY 21 JUNE 2019

In commemoration of International Yoga Day on June 21, 2019, SSGMCE Shegaon orchestrated a series of events. Guided by Principal Dr. S.B. Somani, the Yoga, NCC, and NSS Departments collaborated to host a two-week Yoga training camp from June 7 to June 21, 2019. This daily camp, conducted between 6:30 and 7:30 AM, unfolded in the college's Yoga Hall and Sports Ground. Under the expert guidance of trained Yoga instructors Mrs. Sneha Gachake and Dr. R.M. Kharate, close to 100 participants immersed themselves in the camp. A display flex initiative sought to extend an invitation to the local community.

On the actual International Yoga Day, a meticulously arranged program took place at the College Sports Ground, commencing at 6:30 AM. Dr. S.B. Somani set the tone with an opening address, emphasizing the significance of Yoga in everyday life. The program featured Yoga demonstrations led by Dr. R.M. Kharate and Mrs. Sneha Gachke, initiating at 7 AM and concluding by 8:00 AM. Following the AYUSH department's guidelines, the event accommodated 150 participants, including students, NCC cadets, NSS volunteers, and staff. Participants were provided with Yoga Manuals and refreshments, and the event culminated with a universal oath to continue the practice of Yoga. Dr. R.M. Kharate extended gratitude to participants and the management. Notable attendees included Sports Director G.L. Baysker, NCC Officer D.L. Bhombe, and NSS Program Officer G.N. bonde.
